What We Do

RESEARCH

Carrier and Product level research for your product shelf. Gain scale from our research used across the industry (a must in a Reg BI environment).

PRODUCT SHELF MANAGEMENT

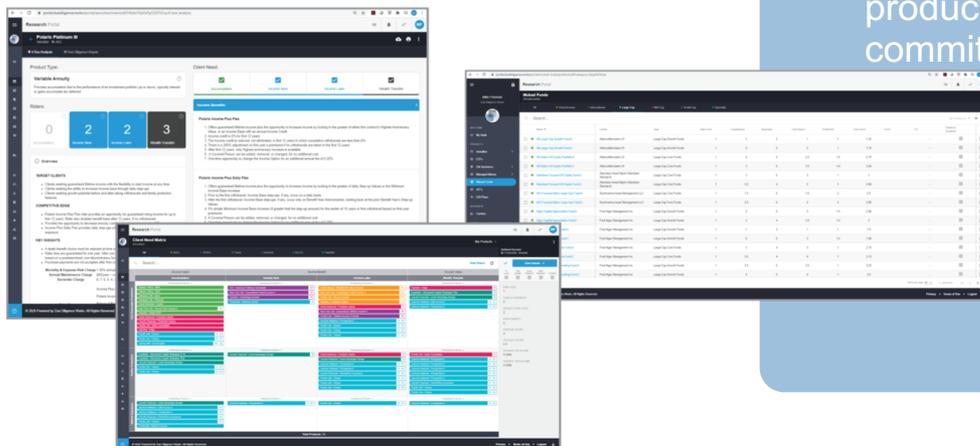

Get specific advice on your product shelf, what to keep, remove or add to your shelf with a documented process.

CLIENT PORTAL

See your product shelf in one place, with easy access to research, support your Reg BI needs:

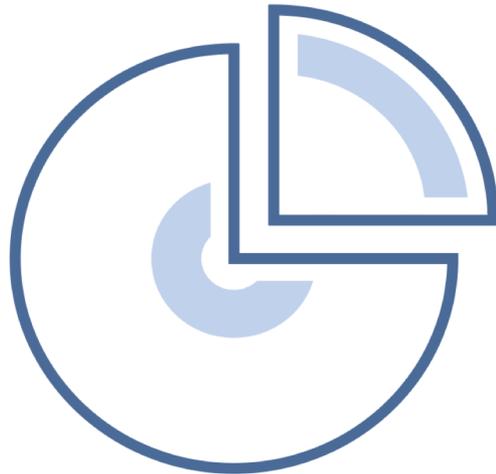

Home Office: See where your product gaps are, fulfill your product research obligations. Maintain your due diligence, committee minutes, product decisions in one place.

Financial Professional and Supervision: see your product shelf in one place, easy access to research, client view of products, and a comparison tool

Our Process

DDW’s due diligence process is tailored to each firm’s needs and strategic direction. Quantitative and Qualitative criteria are used in determining which products are right for your product platform.

What We Believe Is Important

To research a product shelf, you have to compare it to the industry product universe. If you don't know what else is out there, it is impossible to know if your product shelf is best in class, yet alone document as such. We review the entire product universe on a continuous basis, and this enables us to provide advice on your product shelf.

2

Due diligence is not just for the back office. Organizing research and tailoring the information to the correct audience is a key reason our content is used up and down the organization from the front office to the back.

What We Believe Is Important

3

It is amazing when Supervision and Financial Professionals use the same tools and information. NIGOs are reduced and the culture is improved. Same is true for your product organization, helping them see things from an FP perspective and FPs from a Product Management perspective.

4

We turn data into actionable information and speak in plain English. Financial Services can be a complicated business, especially when reading a prospectus or sifting through product data.

Can Due Diligence Help Sales

Yes it can.

Gone are the days of thick due diligence reports which nobody reads. There is great content produced through proper due diligence, we take great pride in producing these reports, but even more in how it is consumed.

Our content is meant to be read by home office (analyst to president) and by Financial Professionals. We show products in a way that FPs need to see to help their clients.

Product Overview: American General Polaris Platinum III

Product Type: Variable Annuity Base and NY

Variable annuities are long-term, tax-deferred investments designed for retirement, involve investment risks and may lose value. Earnings are taxable as ordinary income when distributed and may be subject to a 10% additional tax if withdrawn before age 59½.

There are three key attributes that make up the product: investment options, benefit riders and expenses.

Overall Assessment

Overall Assessment – This product has a moderate cost given the number of investment options and riders available. The static allocation to Secure Value Account is less complicated than the active algorithms of other products and creates the benefit of greater transparency coupled with less opportunity for contract values to stay more heavily weighted toward “stable” value allocations as markets recover.

This contract offers a wide variety of sub accounts; however, some may be limited due to investment requirements for the living benefits. Advisor and/or client should make sure to follow the appropriate requirements set forth by the living benefit riders.

This product offers two different Income Benefits which makes it possible for a client to choose the features that are most beneficial to their financial needs and goals.

The Income Benefits also offer a longer income credit period than many of its competitor benefits. Additionally, the Income Plus Benefit offers a unique feature of a partial income credit when a withdrawal is taken during the first 12 years.

Lifetime Income Plus FLEX offers a doubling feature for income purposes that some annuity providers no longer offer. This is provided the client adheres to the rider provisions and doesn't make withdrawals in the first 12 contract years.

The Income Plus FLEX benefits allow a client to choose different income options. If a client chooses a stable amount

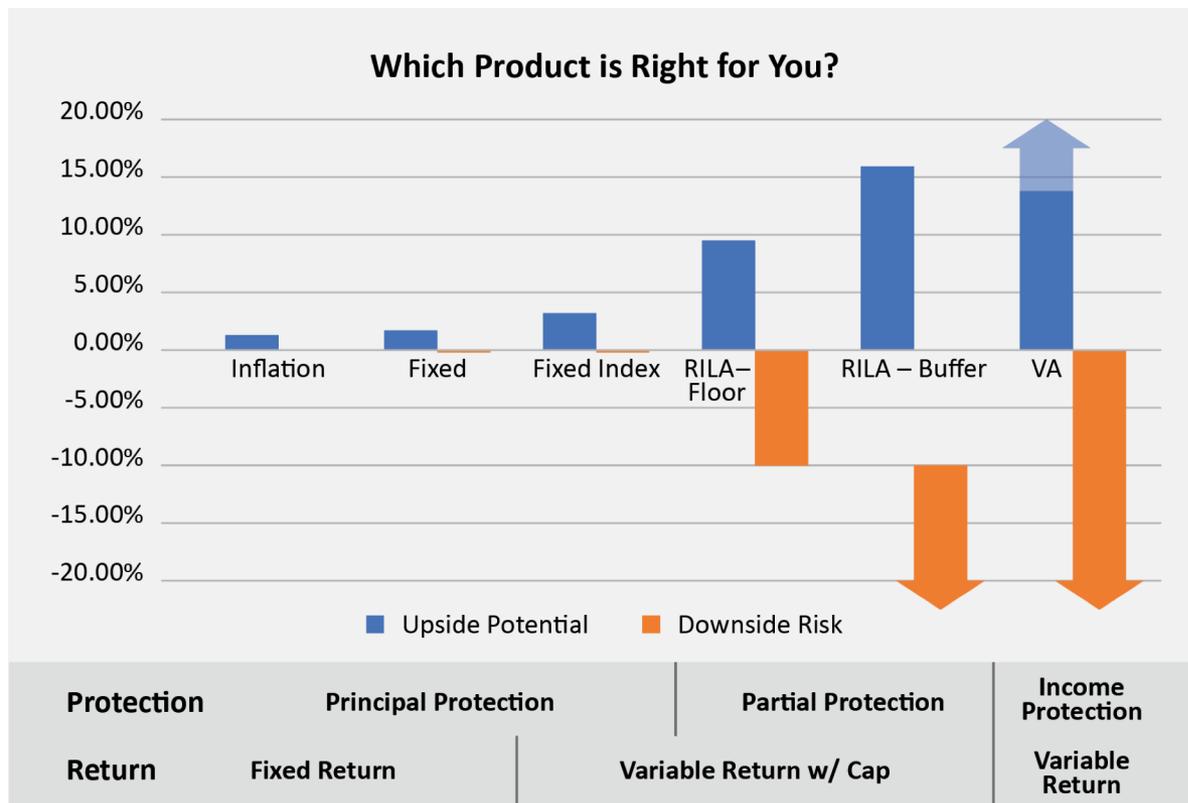

Can Due Diligence Help Sales

We also believe Financial Professionals are typically good at talking to clients about market commentary. But often struggle to convert that conversation into a product sale tied to the client need.

We have created the DDW Market Insights which takes the current market conditions and talks to actual products that can implement that market idea.

This is helpful for the FP and Sales Managers to have the right conversation to help clients and grow the business.

Illustrative using Q3 2020 data. Returns based on average rates for industry for 5 year CDSC products (RILA 5 & 6 yr). FIA: 1 yr pt to pt on S&P 500 cap rate; RILA: 1 yr cap for 10% floor and 10% buffer; VA: is S&P 500 total return 5 yr annual return as of August; inflation rate: Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics August Annual Rate; FIA and RILA show a cap rate not actual returns.

Who is Behind Due Diligence Works, Inc.

Michael C. Freeman is the President of Due Diligence Works, Inc. He started the firm to take his years of experience in the Bank Channel, Wire House, RIA and Platform Providers and create a better way.

“There is so much inefficiency and redundant work being done often at a lower quality. Regulatory scrutiny is at an all time high and increasing. By providing a service exclusively focused on Due Diligence, the work can be done at a higher quality, with more scale, and more strategic value.”

Prior to Due Diligence Work, Inc he was the Managing Director, Head of Investments for Citi / Smith Barney. He was responsible for Managing the Product Offering, Due Diligence, Views on the Markets, and the Wealth Specialists teams. His Product Management responsibilities include due diligence, management, and distribution of a broad offering including: Mutual Funds, Annuities, Insurance, Capital Markets, Alternatives, Financial Planning, Retirement, Managed Accounts, Brokerage Cash Management and Lending Products.

Prior to joining Citi, Mr. Freeman was a Managing Director at Ameritrade. In his last role at Ameritrade he was responsible for the Investing Clients and Branch Management. He also held senior roles as Head of Products for Institutional and Investing Clients, Chief Operating Officer of Ameritrade Advisory Services, LLC, and as Director of Amerinvest Investment Management, LLC (Robo Advisor). Prior to Ameritrade, Mr. Freeman was involved in several start up organizations both in the US and Europe; prior to which, he was a Management Consultant with Ernst & Young LLP. Mr. Freeman holds an M.B.A. with honors from Boston University, and a B.S. from Lafayette College.
